Roseben Also Succumbs to Joound-Paget's Jacobite Takes Dash Stakes-Killkare Comes Home With Long Odds—Six Favorites Beaten at Sheepshead Bay

James B. Brady's Water Light, by Watercress—Lumins, for whom he paid $10,000 last year, and who recently won the Dolphin Stakes, was tried again in the Reapers Stakes for three-year-olds, one mile and three six-teenths, at Sheepshead Bay yesterday, and this time he was found wanting. Opening at 3 to 5, his price went back to 6 to 5, while Coy Maid, to whom he conceded twenty while Coy Maid, to whom he conceded twenty pounds, was backed down to 7 to 2, and Oliver Cromwell, a maiden who was beaten by Suf-fice and Pioneer in the selling race the other day, was backed from 8 to 1 down to fours. This evidence of wisdom was shown to have been based upon careful calculations, for Water Light was badly beaten, while Coy Maid in a heavy drive won from Oliver Cromwell by a head. Coy Maid was taken out by Willie Knapp to run the Brady colt into submission The latter, with 126 pounds on his back, was ridden to death by O'Neill, and at the head of the stretch he began to crack. Then Burns moved up with Oliver Cromwell, and passing Von Tromp, who had been third all the way, he went after Coy Maid in vain, the latter running a good game race. Von Tromp was third, two lengths away, with Water Light five lengths back. The time defeat of Dave Johnson's Ro in the second race, for all ages, at six fur-longs, was the most shocking event of the day. The great sprinter picked up 137 pounds and, with only Jocund and Blucher to beat, he was a prohibitive favorite at 2 to 7. Jocund, who was in receipt of twenty pounds from Roseben, was well played however, at 9 to 2. Roseben took the lead at the start, but at the head of the stretch he was carried a trifle wide by Blucher, where upon Shaw suddenly shot Jocund through on the rail so quickly that O'Neill on the favorite, was taken completely by surprise.

After that Joound simply galloped home an easy winner by four lengths in 1:14 1-5, Roseben being too tired to wear him down. The latter was half a dozen lengths in front of Blucher.

Roseben being too tired to wear him down. The latter was half a dozen lengths in front of Blucher.

Sydney Paget's Jacobite, generally neglected at 10 to 1, was victorious in the Dash Stakes, for two-year-olds, five furlongs. He got up under the whip in time to beat T.-C. McDowell's King'c Daughter, a 20 to 1 shot, by a length. The latter made nearly all the running and had a length over James R. Keene's Kuroki, 5 to 1, who made up much ground in the run through the last quarter of a mile. O'Neill for some reason pulled Belmere up at the start. This colt was an equal favorite at 16 to 5 with Sir Huon, who never had a chance. The time was 0.58 3-5.

Kilkare, who was played from 200 to 1 down to 60 to 1, made all the pace in the first race. for maiden two-year-old fillies, five furlongs, and won in a drive by a length. August Belmont's Bivouac, 2 to 1 favorite, was driven into the place, half a length before Leonora W, who was played from to 1 to 7 to 2, and, coming from the ruck, nailed third money by half a length from James R. Keene's St. Ursula, who, coupled with Bribery, ruled second in favor at 16 to 5.

The race was run in 0.50 4-5.

M. L. Hayman's Right Royal, backed down to 5 to 1, got a well judged ride from Perrine in the last race, at a mile and a half, on the turf, and coming from behind in the stretch, he won by a couple of lengths in 2:36 4-5.

A. L. Aste's Hippocrates, 5 to 1, always prominent, got the place from Liela, the favorite, by a length and a half, la was a disastrous day for the form players, as all six favorites were beaten. Fully 15,000 persons were at the track. The summaries:

NEWFORT, Aug. 51.—Twofold national lawn tennis champion is Beals C. Wright of Boston. To-day he wrested the singles championship title from Holcombe Ward, who shares with him the honors of the doubles. successfully defended this year here on the second day of the meet. Not only did Wright send Ward down to defeat, but he did it in straight sets, of which the first two were straight sets, of which the first two were little better than runaways for the winner. Too late to prove effective against such a strong and brilliant player as Wright, Ward struck his fast pace and with it he lengthened out the third set until twenty games were required to decide it. The contest finally resolved itself into a teat of endurance, and, though both men were plainly tiring, Wright held together just long enough to pull out the win in one of the most sensational sets the win in one of the most sensational sets ever played on the Casino courts.
In the consolation finals E. Tudor Cross of Providence beat C. S. Brigham, also of Providence Seat C. S. Brigham, also of Providence, &—1, &—0.

That Ward should not have pushed his opponent much harder than he did, especially in the first two sets, occasioned one of the biggest surprises of the meet. Before the match was begun even money was the rule, and there seemed hardly any choice between the two men, so evenly matched were they thought to be. If anything, the weather conditions and those of the courts were believed to rather favor Ward's game. The courts in front of the grand stand had been covered with tarpaulin the night before, and thus protected from the dampness as much as possible, but naturally they suffered slightly from the wet weather, and it was felt that they would respond the more readily to Ward's sharp cut stroke. On the other to Ward's sharp cut stroke. On the other hand, Wright's game was known to be the strongest that it has ever been, and there was small choice between them. Both men were keyed up to concert pitch and were anxious to play their match despite the unfavorable outlook in the weather. Throughout more than half the match it threatened rain every moment, and twice players and gallery got a slight sprinkling, but at last the sun broke through and the promised shower failed to materialize.

In winning the championship title and in coming through the long, hard all comers' tournament, never parting with more than one set in any match which he played, Beals, C. Wright demonstrated beyond a peradventure that he is the strongest tennis player in the land, and for the next twelve months will rank No. 1. In steadiness, accuracy and strength of his game he is unequaled by any other player at his best. In generalship, resourcefulness ability to use his head at all times and to take advantage of every opening offered by any opponent, he is unsurpassed. As an exponent of the speedy net game, the country has never had a more skilful player. Wright's game has tremendously improved this year, developing and unfolding remarkably while he was playing in England, and blossoming into full fruition during the 1905 national meet here the last ten days. The score: coming through the long, hard all comers

MORE THAN $100,000 WON ON THE FILLY'S VICTORY.

Opens at 200 to I and Is Backed Down to 60—Her Owner, J. H. McAvoy, Cleans Up $20,000—A Cleanup on Right Royal-Bookmakers Have Great Day.

More than $100,000 was taken out of the betting ring at the Bay yesterday, when Killkare, a two-year-old filly by Victory— Dorothy III., won the first race. She opened at 200 to 1 and nearly every bookmaker in the pavilion took $5 and $10 bets at this price before the odds began to fall. Dick Brown got down two wagers of $1,000 to $5, while Tully Coulter, Doc Ashe, A. R. Peabody and others who are on a constant lookout for such good things were also aboard. But the biggest commission placed on the filly was handled by E. J. Callahan, a member of the Metro-politan Turf Association, who sent his men up and down the line until he had wagered enough to win $32,000 on the race. J. H. McAvoy, the owner of Killkare, also bet on her to win close to $20,000, while R. G. Tower of Boston was another successful better McAvoy admitted that he knew of three men who alone cleaned up $70,000 on the coup Jesse Lewisohn said that he knew all about the filly's work, but that he could not stand for the jockey,'a boy named Mulrenan, whose father is a policeman on the Brooklyn Bridge. But when Lewishon saw the eleverness with which the youngster handled Killkare he found it impossible to cool out for an hour. Killkare closed at 60 to 1, but the ring did not realize how hard it had been hit until it came time to pay off. Then every book felt the effect of the killing to a certain extent. Killkare is a full sister to the three-year-old maiden Conquest. Their dam, Dorothy 111., was once owned by the late Fred Hamlin, the theatrical manager, and was trained for her races by C. J. Kelly. When Hamlin died, Dorothy III., who was in foal and had a yearling also, became the property of Mrs. Hamlin, who recently sold the mare and the two fillies to McAvoy. Several years ago McAvoy owned the colt Prince McClurg, who distinguished himself by winning three Derbies, the Latonia, the St. Louis and the Little Rock, in one season. He said after Yesterday's coup that he had won more money than ever before in his career. Many members of the theatrical profession had the tip and went to the track to play it, Bookmakers Wheelock, Joe Rose, Sol Lichtenstein and others with whom they bet being caught for the top price. Lewisohn's money in this race went on Leonora W., a filly by Peep o' Day—Best Wishes, who ran in the name of William Gall, but is said to be the property of David Gideon. She had Martin in the saddle, and opening at 8 to 1 she was soon backed down to 5 to 2, Gideon, Dave Johnson, Morris Stack, Joe Rose and the combined clubhouse putting down the checks. The filly had many obstacles to contend with, but managed to finish third. August Belmont's Bivouac, the favorite, received heavy support from George Wheelock, Frank Tyler and John Walters, Alex Shields and Tom Costigat welters. Alex Sinems and 10m Comman bet on Meddling Dalay, Sin Linchenstee Rook Zuna and Billy Hayes preferred Moonshine. Zuna, a filly Hayes preferred Moonshine. NEW YORK RIFLEMEN LEAD. ure of First Place in National Team Match.

SEA GIRT, Aug. 21,-First place in the SEA GIRT, Aug. 31.—First place in the national match was virtually won by New York to-day when the team left the skirmish field with a lead of 37 points over the infantry skirmishers. To-morrow the match will be finished at the 1,000 yards range, where New York is at its best, and unless all signs fail the team will open up a still wider gap between itself and the team that has second honors. The teams that hold the first six places tonight are: New York, 4,148; Infantry, 4,111; Ohio, 4,042; Marine Corps, 3,985; Navy, 3,947. District of Columbia, 3,923.

The teams turned out this morning for the The teams turned out this morning for the 1,000 yard stage, and targets had been assigned for the range. The leading pairs were in position when three of the targets that had been raised on the sea wall were disabled by the high westerly wind. They were almost torn from their frames and blown out to sea, for the wind tore down the range at a thirty mile clip and came in victous puffs. In the glare of the morning light the tar-gets showed up poorly, and there was a feel-ing of relief all along the firing line when word was passed that it would be impossible to handle the targets on the 1,000 yard range. The teams packed up their kits and moved over to the skirmish field, where the team

New York and Ohio were unfortunate enough to draw the second run, and when they followed the Montana and California teams down the range the shadow of the silhouettes was badly placed and the wind was still racing down the field.

Under these unfavorable conditions the New Yorkers came back with a run of 731, while Ohio's run netted 704. The infantry while Ohio's run netted 704. The infantry and marines followed. Conditions had improved, the light being better, but the wind was still a lively proposition. The marines skirmished for the high total of the first run of the 35 teams, scoring 784, but were penalized five points for a premature fire at 200 yards, scaling the run down to 779.

'Ine intantry men in their competitions for the army team had skirmished in the 50s, but the shots who have followed the national competition were not surprised when the regulars dropped into the stereotyped 60s with a total of 784. They had cut down New York's lead, but not to the extent that army men had confidently expected.

New Jersey and the navy ran in the unlucky thirteenth, and the Jerseymen fell down hard on their own skirmish field, scoring but 678. The bluejackets skirmished better, scoring 761 and passing the Jerseymen on their aggregate. The cavalrymen, with their handy little carbines, were unable to skirmish up to form under the improving conditions, and scored only 731. Massachusetts and the District of Columbia ran evenly with 765 and 768.

The weaker teams shot poorly in the high winds and dropped still further back into the ruck. No noon recess was taken, as the officers of the match were keen on finishing the skirmish runs by night. The runs were handled much better than the slow and rapid firing stages, and an average of 68 points. Their skirmishing was cycellent and the wind had softened a bit. The New Yorkers had conditions down pat, and ran up the best skirmish made for the day, scoring 820, an average of 68 points. Their skirmishing was consistent.

Ohio braced up, too, and their total of 777 was a creditable performance for a team that has had little experience in this class of work. Just asthe infantrymen and marines started on their second run the wind suddenly shifted from a rear wind to a head one, and when the teams were half way down the field the wind was across the range.

The army men totalled 817, but the sea soldiers failed to equal thei and marines followed. Conditions had improved, the light being better, but the wind day was a grim grapple, and the visitors from the leisurely location floored the representatives of our progressive little city. In this instance the order of things was reversed, and the Quaker made more progress than the Gothamite, The race is not always to the swift. In yesterday's race there was more bone and sinew in the Philadelphia batting and more finish to the Philadelphia fielding. The last two innings were meaty with incident grand and the game was interesting all the time. The New Yorks rallied gamely in the eighth inning, but the Philities had a rally up their sleeves in reserve and came back with a spurt in the ninth. They were in the lead all the time, perpetrated a number of pretty plays but were on the anxious seat toward the close, when the New Yorks woke up after seven innings of feeble batting and came at them strong.

McGlinnity began the game for the New Yorks, but had poor control and was not up to the mark generally. He was batted out of the box in the second inning. Wiltsed did well until the ninth, when he was ahaken up in a most sanoying manner, suddenly, briefly, disastrously. Michols salled along smoothly for seven innings, doing telling execution but the came day for Gen. Duffy electation.

As an appetizer Thomas beat on an Infield hit in the first inning, but was forced on Strang's quick handling of Glesson's grounder. Courtney sent Glesson to third with a single, but Courtney sent Glesson to third with a single, but Courtney sent Glesson to third with a single, but Courtney was nipped stealing on a relay from Bresneham to McGinnity to Strang. The Philadelphias seemed to consider the decision on Courtney a trifle beforged. Browne was under Magree's lift. Titus white the ball, but the umpire said safe. Dooin doubled past McGann, Bresnahan and save the fielding by Titus reduced it lost a fire bit of fielding by Titus reduced it to a plain every day out, though it was rough luck for plays blended for four runs.

New Yorks Fluish in the West With a Defeat in Detroit.

The last games of Eastern teams in the West in the American League were played yesterday. The New Yorks were shut out in Detroit, making three straight defeats in that city and five straight defeats in all. A trip that was begun well terminated poorly, Griffith's unprecedented run of hard luck in the line of cripples breaking out afresh on this trip. However, light batting also was to blame. The record for the trip was six victories and nine defeats. The Philadelphias whitewashed Cleveland and returned home with bright prospects of retaining their lead. Boston won in St. Louis and Chicago defeated Washington. The results:

DETROIT, Aug. 31.—Detroit took the third consecutive game from the New Yorks to-day by reason of Donovan's great pitching aided in part by foolish plays by Elberfeld, Williams and Fultz. Just one of the visitors reached third base, and then, when two men had been retired, Griffith shook up his batting order, but it availed him nothing. The fielding of both teams was without exciting incident, save Elberfeld's great catch of Crawford's foul in the eighth inning, when the New York shortstop smashed his face into the grand stand palings in getting the ball. Donovan opened badly, passing Hahn and then making a wild throw to second of Keeler's attempted sacrifice. Then Donovan steadled and neverallowed two consecutive hits, except in the eighth, when Powell drove safely to left and was forced on Hahn's grounder. After Keeler had lined to Schaefer, Elberfeld hit safely, but there was no danger. Detroit obtained its first run on a three bagger, by McIntyre to the left field fence, the ball being badly misjudged by Hahn, and Lindsay's three base hit to center. The second run came on singles by O'Leary and Warner and Fultz's wild fling to catch O'Leary at third. The next run scored was on single by Crawford, Cobb and Coughlin. The last two eventuated in the eighth on Donovan's single and steal, McIntyre's single, on which he resched second when the ball was returned, and Lindsay's drive to right center. The score: DETROIT, Aug. 31 .- Detroit took the third
